BROWNIE

Jones Valley High School

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

Volume XXVI

Editor - Joyce Seagraves
Associate Editor - Ricky Satterwhite

Dagwood's front door is safe compared to the entrance of Phillips High at 3:05 p. m. There is a mad rush to find a seat on the county and transit buses which bring Valley students to Phillips.

Valley, 'Tis of Thee We Sing . . .

Foreword

This is the story of Jones Valley in its forty-second year.

'Tis true that adversity has many faces, and so, while the '63 BROWNIE tells a story of hardship and inconvenience, it also tells a story of unsurpassed determination and loyalty. 'Tis a story of Brownies at Powderly and at Phillips.

For some, 'tis the story of a daily eighteen-mile trip across town, of after-school hours cheerfully given in order to maintain an athletic program, a band, and glee club.

'Tis for all of us a story of great victory. Our successful campaign to raise money to rebuild our school is familiar to all Birmingham. 'Tis a story of Brownies impatient to come home.

Finally, 'tis' the acceptance of the challenge handed to us by hundreds of Brownies before us:

"To maintain the high standards begun
May the gold never tarnish
The black ne'er grow dim
Till the goal of our hopes has been won."

As two of the hardest workers in the campaign to raise $200,000 Mr. and Mrs. Driggers were given the honor of turning the first shovel of ground with a new silver-plated shove. The shovel was presented to our school by Couse Construction Company of Chicago.

. . . Of a principal who had a vision

. . . Of a community that refused to let our school die!

Sunday, October 7, was victory day for determined Brownies when ground was broken for our new school. Outstanding dignitaries from city and county attended.

Louise Arthur, a senior; Mr. James Smith, who was on the original land-purchasing committee for Jones Valley High School; and Margaret Burgess, a freshman, were one in spirit at groundbreaking ceremonies.

Two short months later, Rose Dodd and Pat Farris are amazed at the progress which has been made on the new building. The construction superintendent reports that never before has he received such cooperation. When suppliers learn that "It's for Jones Valley," orders are given priority.

Cheerleader Gail Owens led Patsy Owen, a third grader in Jones Valley Elementary, in a victory yell at the ground-breaking. Because many people worked so hard, Patsy will have the privilege of attending school in a new building.

. . . Of loyalty — past, present, and future.

. . . Of an enthusiastic student body

For the most part, Brownies at Phillips cheerfully accepted the left-over lockers and rooms which chased them from basement to third floor in three-minute sprints.

At the bonfire before the homecoming game with Minor, Gail Edmondson and Bonnie Saunders supervise the training of future cheerleaders Pamela Mann and Connie Traffenstedt.

With loving gratitude, we, the Brownie Staff of '63, dedicate our annual to

MRS. ELIZABETH HARRIS

She has merited our admiration by inaugurating girls' intramural sports, which won the first Homer L. Thomas trophy; by instructing our cheerleaders who have won first and second places in statewide clinics; by acting as chairman of our clean-up campaigns, homecoming events, and football banquets; by playing to win, yet at the same time instilling good sportsmanship.

Faculty — Curriculum

Principal

Principal and friend to all Brownies is Mr. A. E. Driggers. Mr. Driggers holds an A. B. degree from Birmingham-Southern, and an M. A. from the University of Alabama.

While Mr. Driggers is at Phillips, Coach Bob Harris is acting as principal out at Jones Valley. Although this is his first year on our faculty, Coach Harris is not new to us. He is a graduate of Jones Valley, and has a B. S. degree from Howard College.

Mrs. Maudene Driggers keeps our books and serves as registrar. To assist her in keeping records straight is Mary Rhodes (below) who serves as assistant, and works out at Jones Valley.

J.V.'s Big Wheels

Mrs. Juanita Cox, Mrs. Becky Park, and Mrs. Jala Newell are responsible for the excellent food served to faculty and students at Jones Valley.

Office is second home to J.V.

Miss Carns and Mr. Vandiver attended a guidance council at Auburn in December to learn new methods of counseling. Ask any J. V. student and he will tell you that the old methods were good enough.

In shorthand class, (above) Dot McReynolds, Sarah Heifner, Nancy Mooney, (at right) Glenda Starkey, and Judy Wofford reach for 100 wam as Mrs. Anne Ferguson dictates.

Mrs. Ferguson has a B. S. from Florence State, and a Master's from University of Alabama.

Take a letter, please, Miss Brownie

From the University of Alabama a new teacher comes to Jones Valley to teach shorthand and typing. Mrs. Jo Ann Dunn has a B. S. degree.

Eyes on copy? Go!

Freddy Olvey and Linda Swindal say that the adding machine is wrong! Freddy's books just don't balance.

"Biology 'bugs' me," say Sophs.

Mrs. Beverly Bright, who received her B. A. Degree from Vandervilt, uses model to explain the funtion of the heart to Gerald Nichols and Donna Yessick.

Mrs. Kitchens and Rose Dodd agree that terminal buds on this twig show the characteristics of an excurrent tree.

Mrs. Iva S. Kitchens

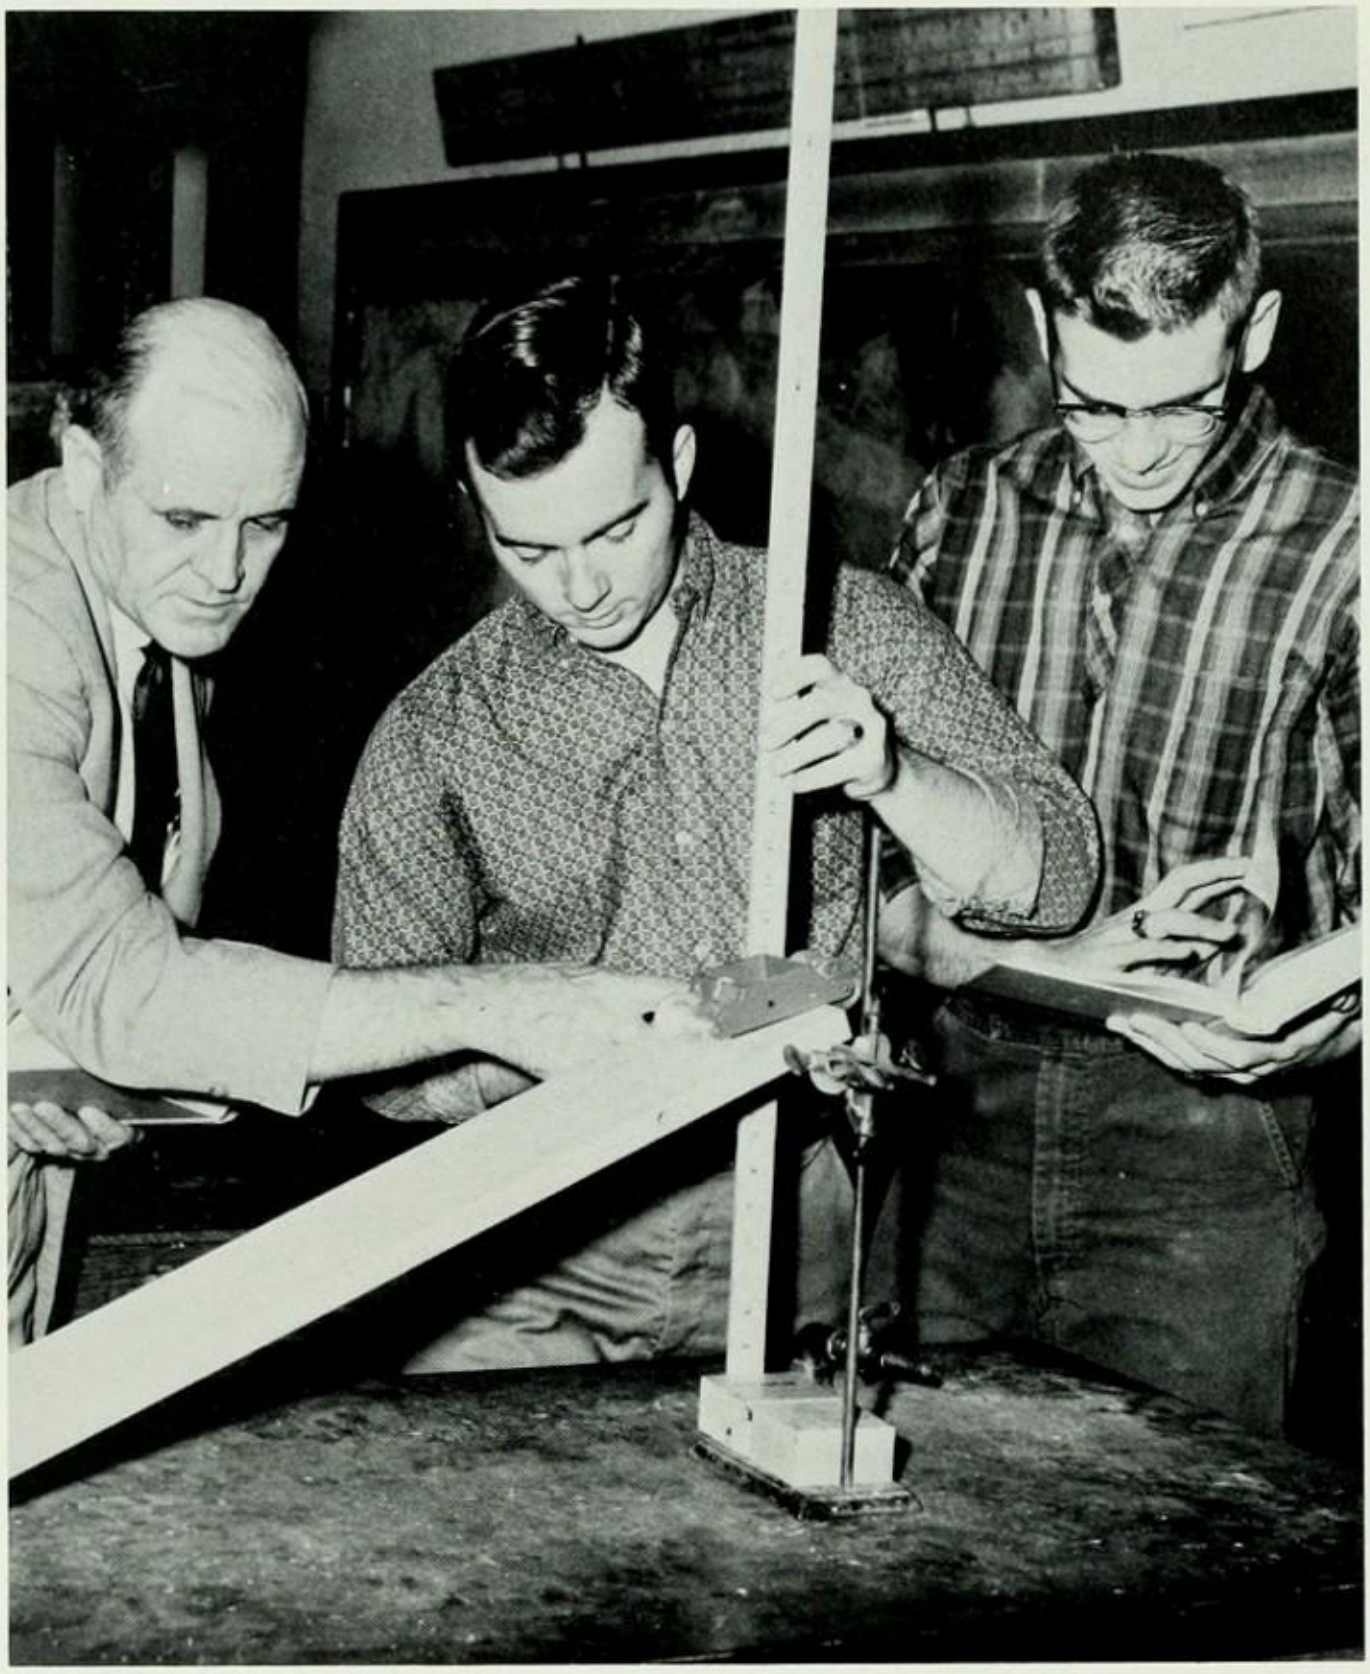
General science, biology, chemistry, physics, and advanced general science are offered to Brownies.



Mr. Charles Carter, University of Alabama, B. A., Ricky Satterwhite and Johnny Santoro demonstrate how to find the coefficient of friction of an inclined plane.

How many "Signifisent Figgers" in that number?

Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, U. of Ala., B. A., uses the blackboard as an aid in teaching history. She also teaches Spanish and English 3.

Who said chairs can't fly?

History is taught by Miss Marylee Reynolds, A.B., Lambuth, U. of Alabama, M.A.

Polly Harris, Hilda Hughes, and Mary Richards try to convince Miss Reynolds that they can learn more history by watching T.V. than by giving current events.

1. Washington takes office
A. Qualities
1. Generalship in War
2. Determination
3. Capacity to plan for distant goals
4. Power to think things through
5. Had dignity, ... stice, and courage

In American history, Mrs. Kathleen Waldrop uses an outline to teach Ann Vick, Janice Ray, and Linda Swindal some facts about our first president. Mrs. Waldrop holds an A. B. from Birmingham-Southern.

History students turn anxious eyes to Cuba

World history, American history, and economics are offered at Jones Valley to students who wish to learn of past events and keep up with the news of the day. In this rapidly changing world, history is becoming a more important subject every year.

Quoi! Un autre examination vocabulaire?

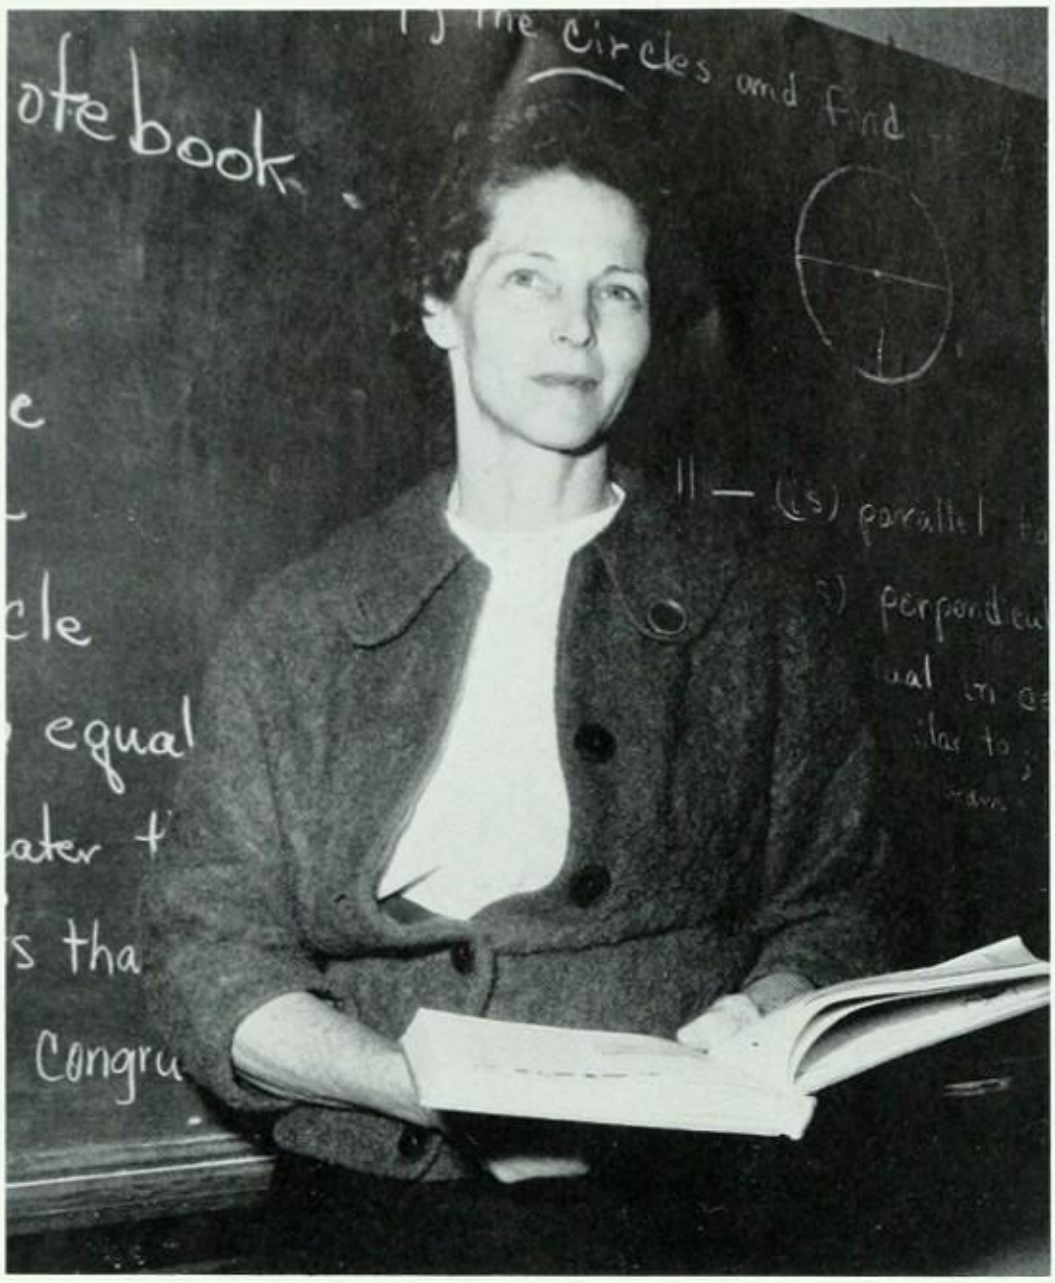
Pero, Senorita y Senor, esta leccion es muy importante - dice el Senor Vandiver.

Mr. Vandiver emphasizes study of present subjunctive of verbs to Bernard Bostic and Michelle Rutherford.

Donna Yessick, Joan Trader, and Clifford Andrews enjoy the French scrapbook with Mrs. Mabel Wainwright. Mrs. Wainwright graduated from Florence State, and has an M. A. degree from the University of Alabama.

Mais, se rappelez le match de football ce soir!

Member of the French class have taken new names just to create a French atmosphere this year. Andre Andrews, Denis Duke, Jean Torbert, Pierre Willingham, Yvette Brown, Nannette Cofer, Suzanne David, Renee Ellis, Antoinette Harrison, Lisette Trator, Cecil Tresslar, Adele Wammach, and Suzette Yessick.



Mrs. Nell Koenig, Birmingham-Southern, A. B., Jacksonville State, B. S., teaches junior high math, science, and history.

Freshmen meet Algebra for first time

Mrs. Alice M. Keith, Birmingham-Southern, A. B., and Joe Fraser don't seem to find math a dull subject.

Louise Higginbotham, University of Alabama, B.S., teaches freshman English.

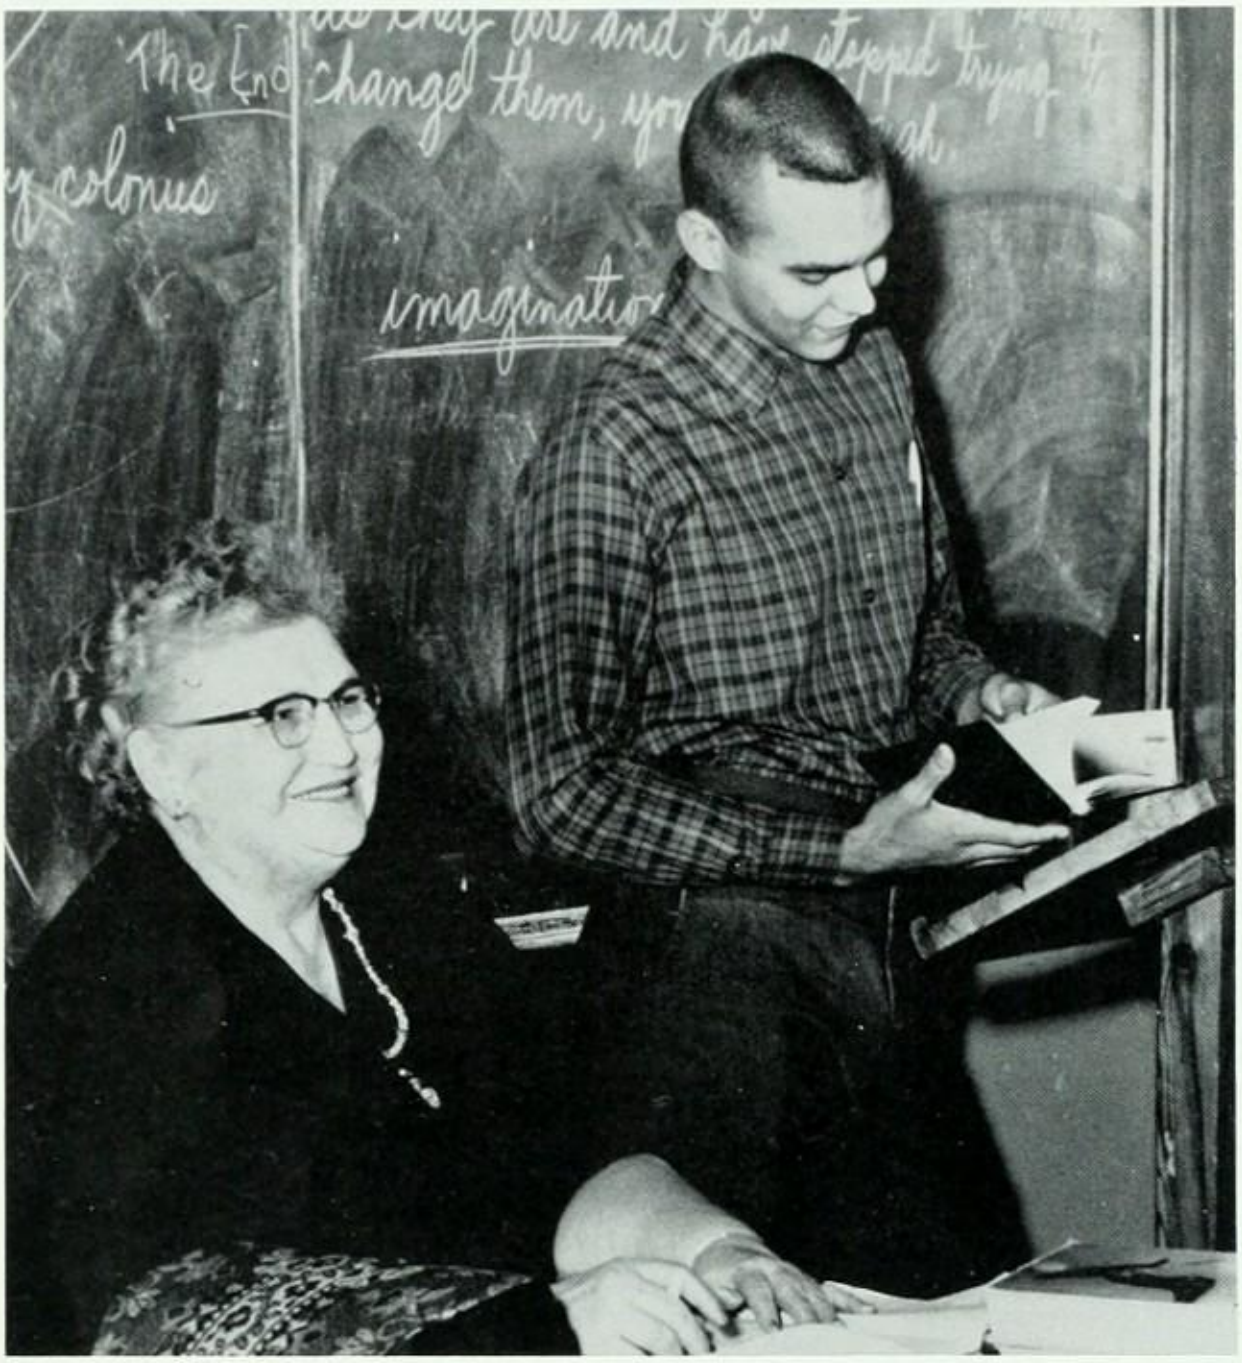
Pauline Phillips, Alabama College, B. S., Peabody College, makes her science classes interesting with the study of leaf collections.



Miss Carns seems to be pleased with Johnny Church's account of "Harvey the Invisible Rabbit."

Senior English students gain poise and assurance from oral book reports.

But that book has 550 pages!

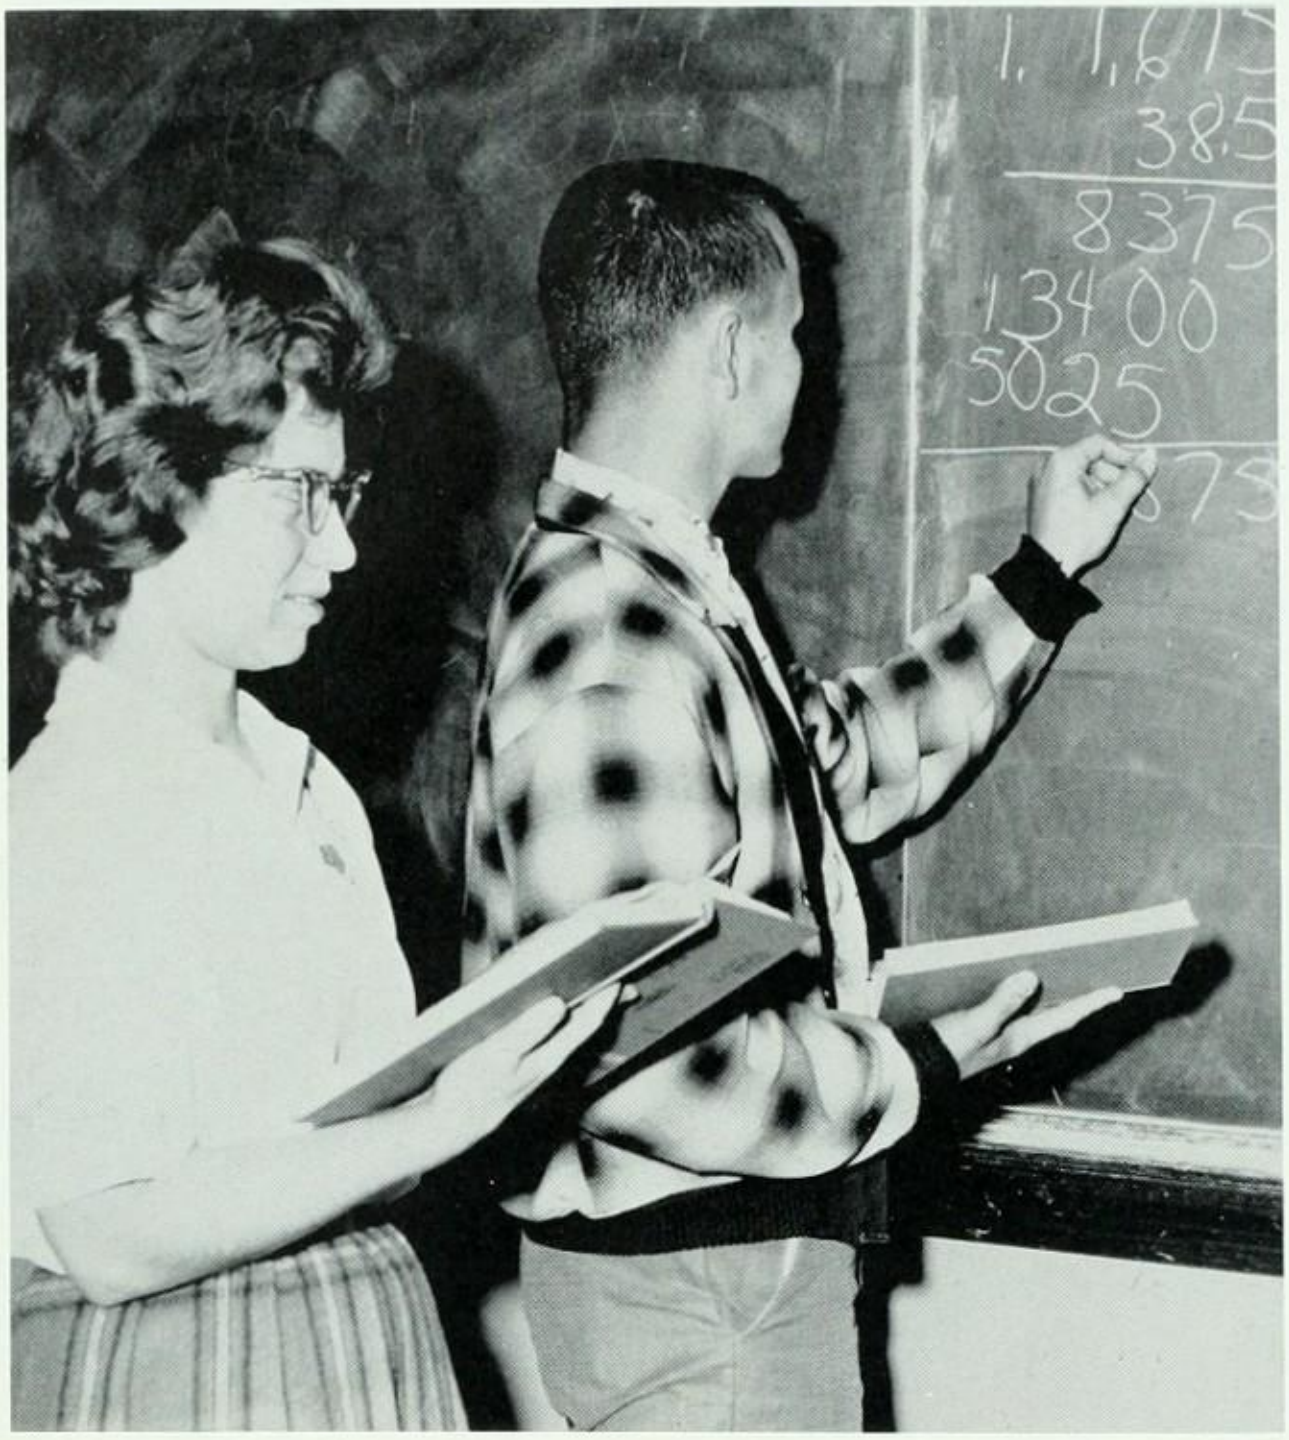
Gary Plowman, as are all English students, is interested in knowing his mistakes so that he can avoid them in the future. Mrs. Mary Bowie, Jacksonville State College, B. S., is always eager to help.

Because of limited space at Phillips, only clothing classes have been offered. Mrs. Hazel Parker, B. S., Alabama College, discusses clothing problems with Jane Frazier, Hilda Webb, and Cynthia Causey.

Good cooking sews up your future

Wayne Duncan, Steve Casey, and Roddy Dainard find that mechanical drawing is both interesting and rewarding.

Mr. Felix King, Auburn University, B. S., is looking forward to our return to Jones Valley so that he may again offer industrial arts.

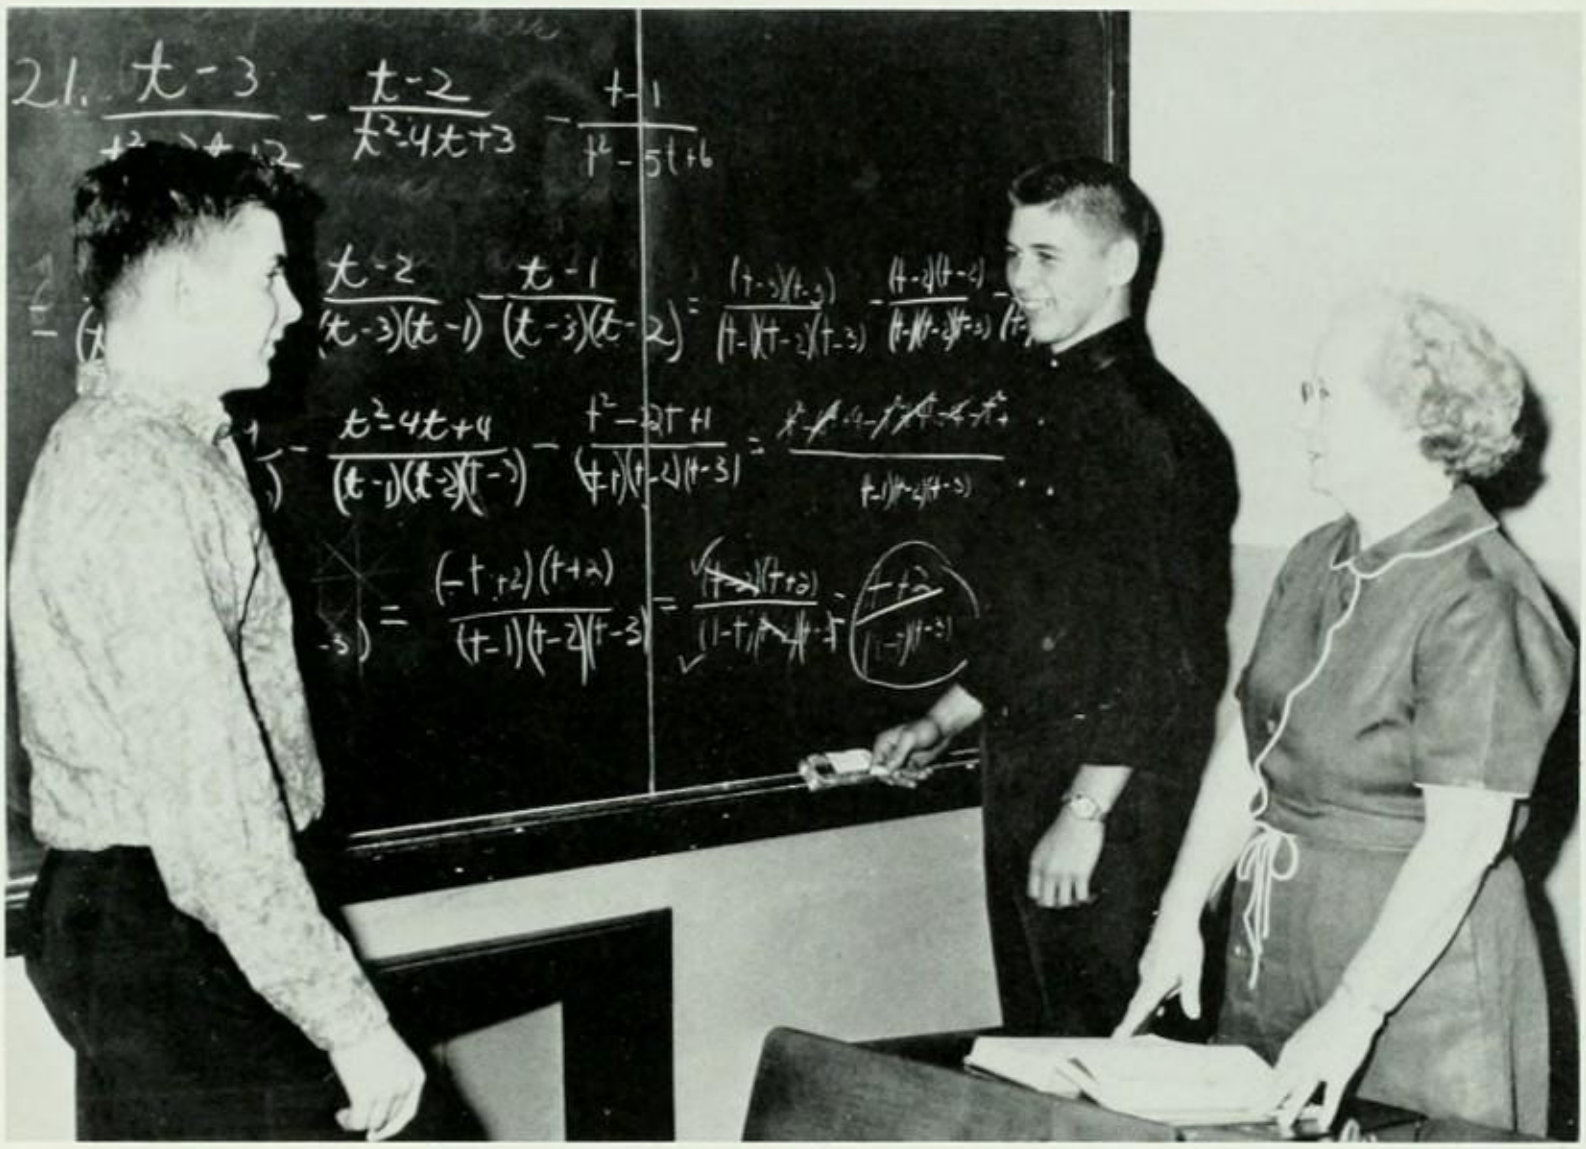


Mrs. Jean Carrol, Howard College, B. S., shows Larry Turner the correct way to solve a business math problem.

Mrs. Faye S. Donaldson, Birmingham-Southern, A. B., University of Alabama, M. A., teaches maths three, four, seven, eight, nine, and ten.

Glenda Shaw and Gary Skelton seem to be enjoying their plane geometry lesson.

You did WHAT?



Octavia Jaxon, University of Alabama, B. S., Clifford Andrews and Buzz Vance work a complicated quadratic equation in the study of Algebra II.

"That's the way children will be"

Ernest A. Hardy, who attended Michigan State University and received his B. S. degree from Birmingham-Southern teaches junior high math and science along with coaching "B-team" football.

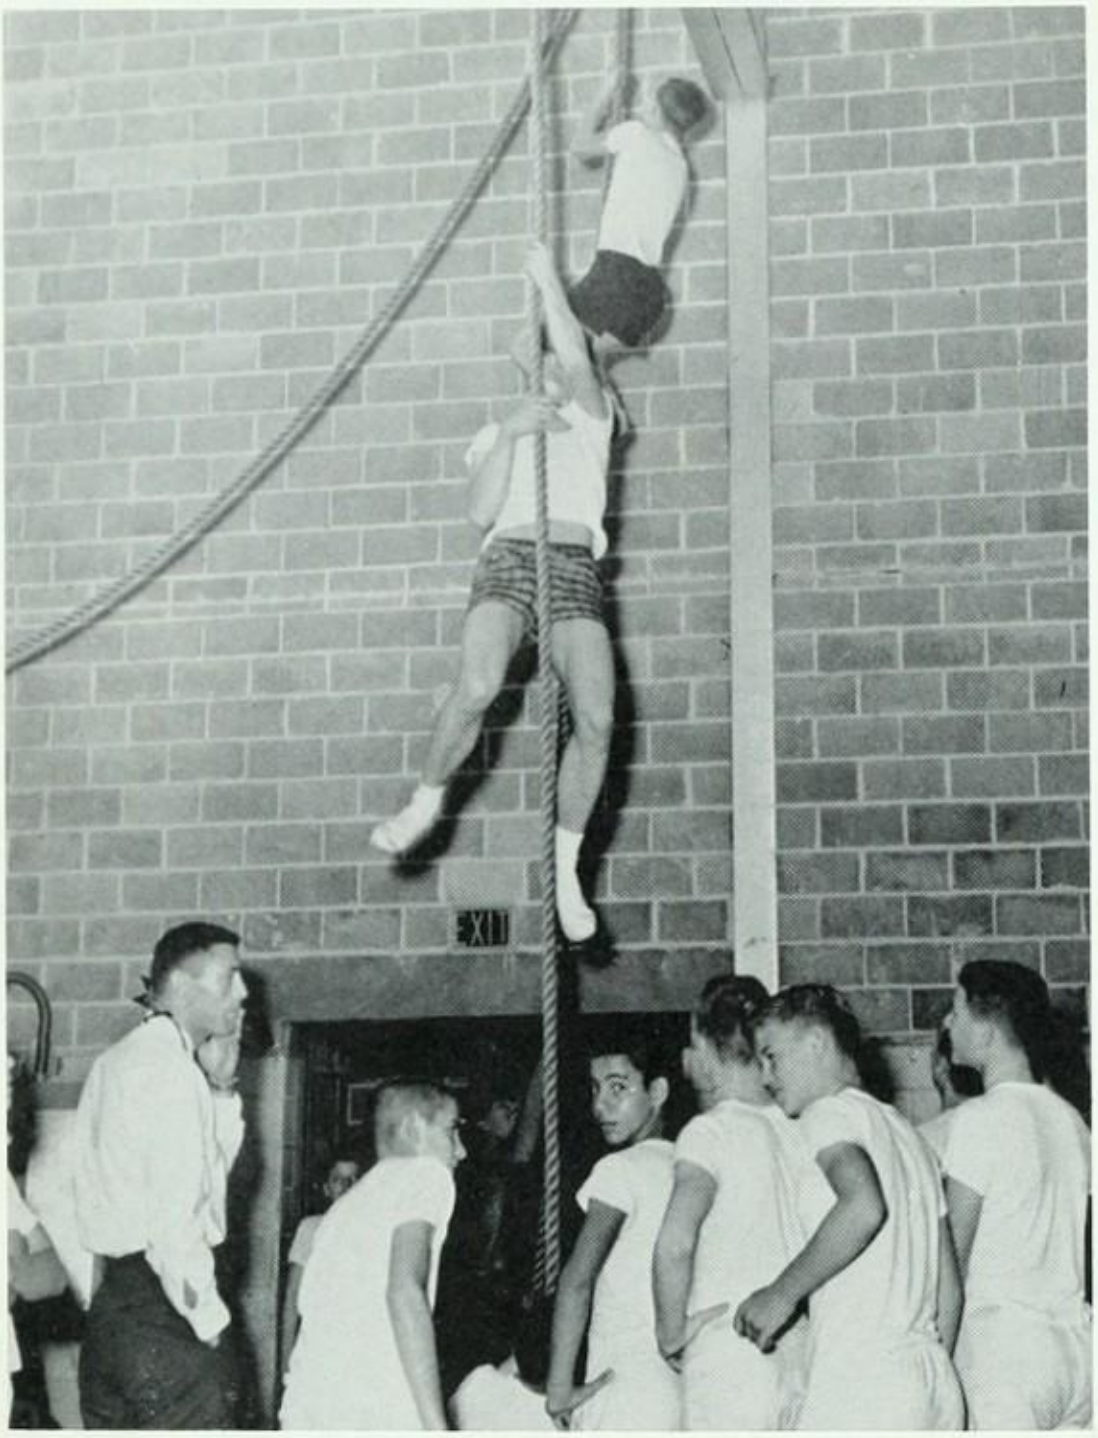
Mrs. Sue James, University of Georgia, B.F.A., displays the sunny disposition which prevails throughout the whole Art Department.

Gold keys better than gold nickels

Mrs. Bessie Huffstutler, B. A. from Howard College, discusses with Paula Hampton and Denny Vines some of the art produced by students at Jones Valley in Powderly.

Sharon Yessick, junior, works on the mural done by the Art Department for the football banquet.

Eddie Gilbert helps create the happy smile on the Brownie's face and the sugar plums for "While visions danced in his head."



Physical fitness of all the boys at J. V. is the concern of our very capable coaches. The boys are drilled in almost every conceivable kind of calisthenics to strengthen bodies.

COACH BILL McLAIN

Music hath charms . . . and muscles, too?

(LEFT) Miss Janet Renshaw, Birmingham - Southern, A.B., teaches her elementary choral students the fundamentals of music. A happy combination of songs from Bach to "Turkey in the Straw" appeals to her students greatly.

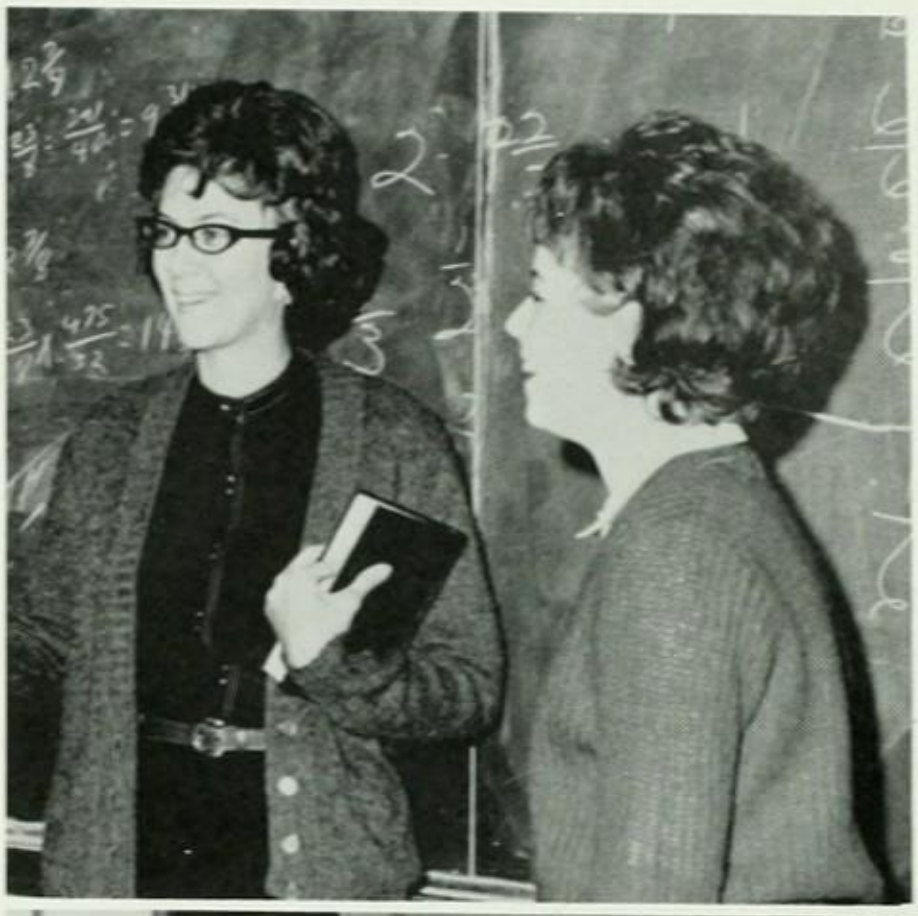
Mrs. Gail Scruggs, Howard College, B.M., not only divides her time between Powderly and Phillips, but holds after-school practice sessions with choral groups. Christmas concert was presented at Brookhaven Methodist Church in December.

(BOTTOM) Mr. John Davis, Boston University, B.M. and M.M., shows his talent for something besides band directing and french horn playing.

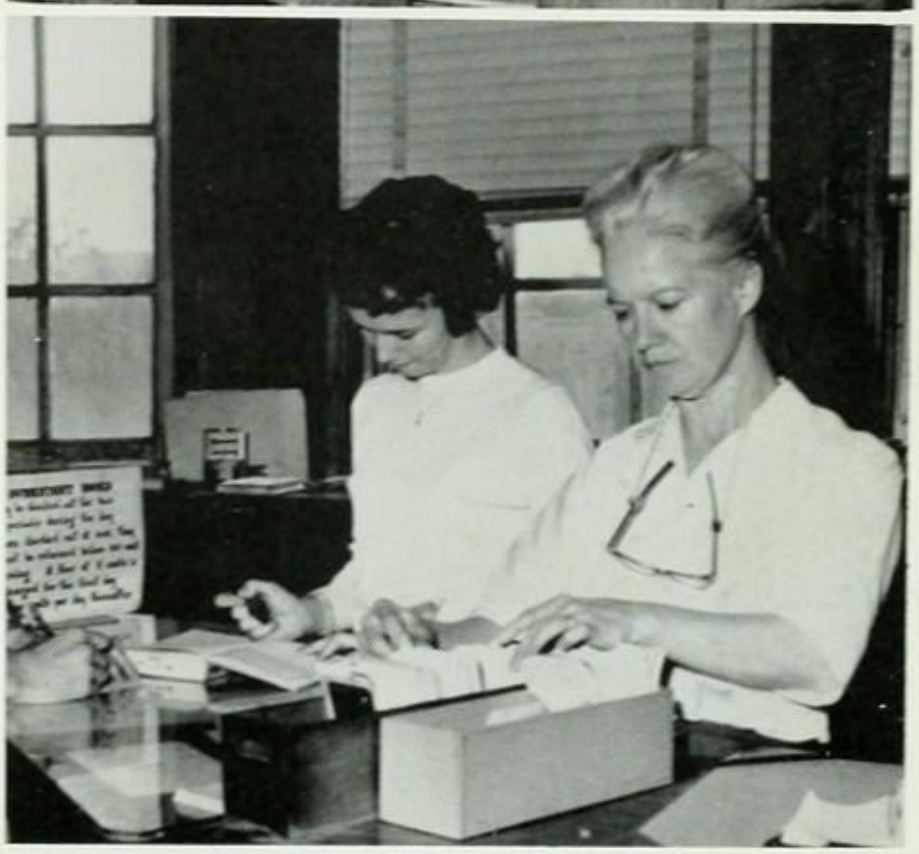
Miss Joyce Norman, Texas Wesleyan, B.S., and Karen Holcombe, find speech a very interesting and amusing subject.

The speech students presented "Arsenic and Old Lace" in December and plans to present "On Borrowed Time" in the spring.

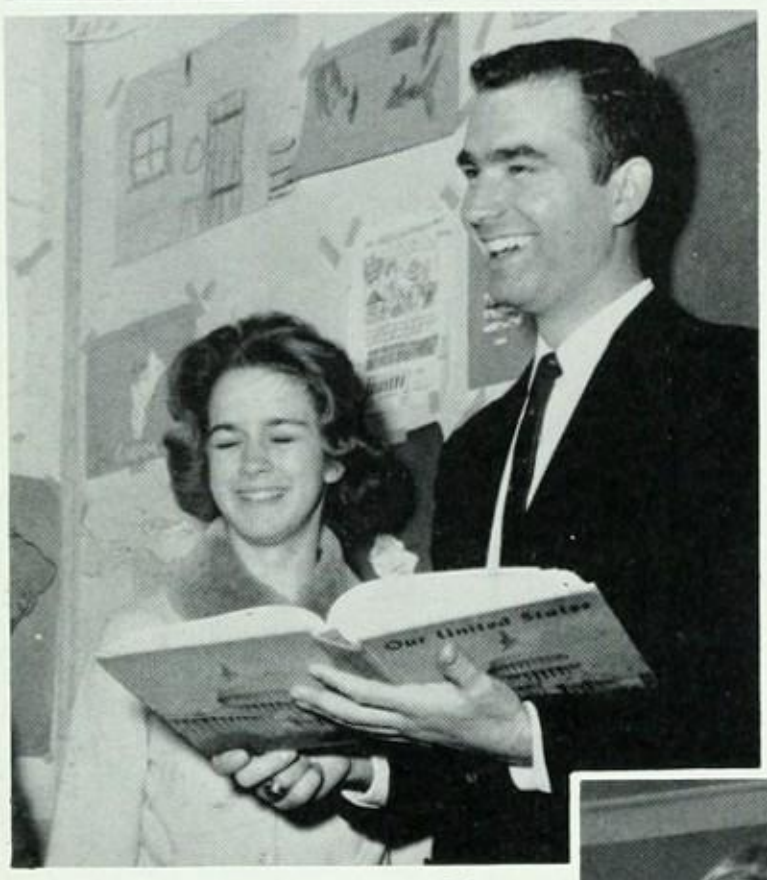
Miss Norman is active in T.V. and is an accomplished ventriloquist.



Mrs. Louise Robinson, assistant librarian, has done much to help keep the Jones Valley library going at Phillips.



Mrs. Lola Price, librarian, A.B., Howard, University of Alabama, is always glad to help students.



(TOP) Mrs. Ruth Dupy, A.B., Alabama College, discusses history with Freddy Delenne, Kay Eddy, and Brenda Cleckley.

(MIDDLE) History is a happy experience to Mr. Jimmy Glover, A.B., Howard College, and Deborah Clinkscales.

(LOWER) Mrs. Judy Smith looks as young as her English students. She has a B.S. degree from Howard College.

Mrs. Murita Andrews, a new junior high history teacher, uses a globe to point out places of historical interest to Cathy Rittmann and Bobby Mitchell. Mrs. Andrews has an A.B. degree from Birmingham-Southern College.

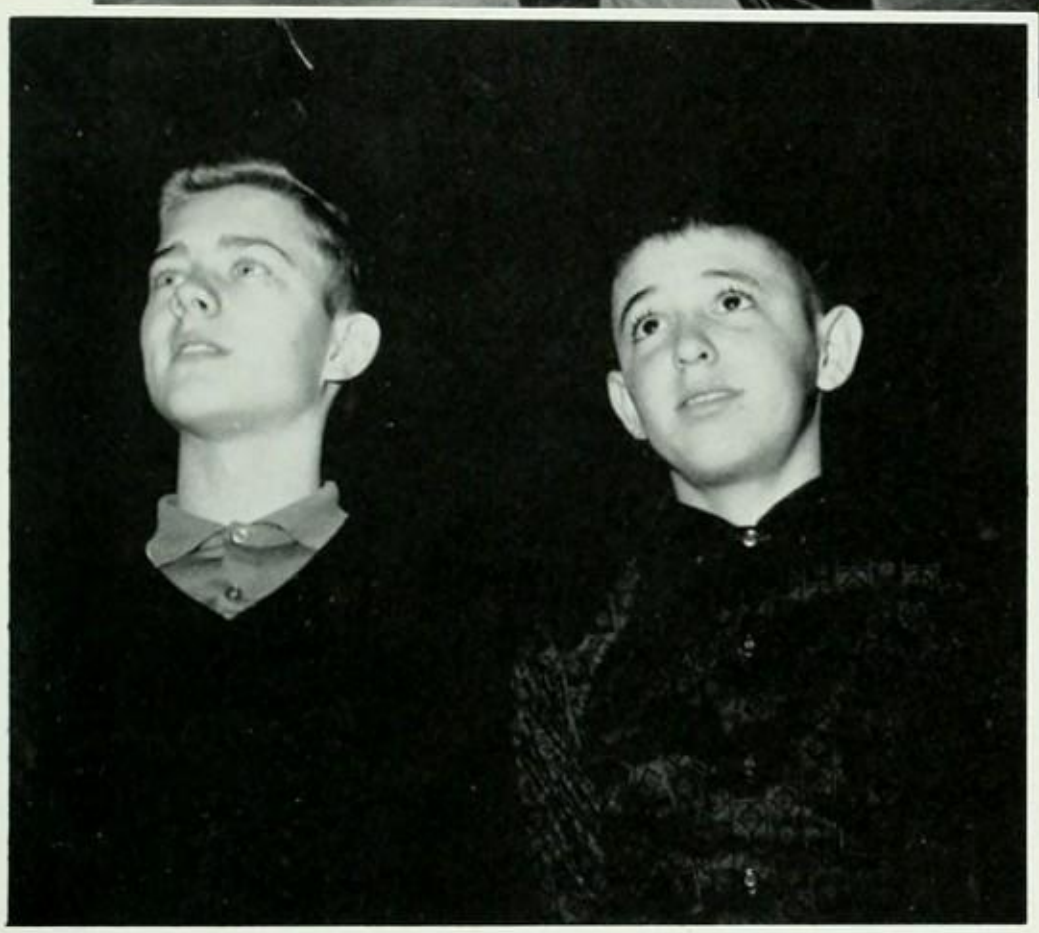
Joyce finds that much is required of a yearbook editor, including many extra miles of walking. Even an athlete like Kenny has trouble keeping up with her.

Mrs. Ferguson and staff members try to decide which picture to use.



Although Robert Altman and Joe Fraser are new on the Brownie and cannot meet with the staff at Phillips, their work with the freshman section has been excellent.

Working on the Brownie is an enjoyable, as well as valuable, experience. Ricky Satterwhite, Kenny Hart, Ann Baggett, Dennis Duke, Janice Lee, Judy Liles, Rose Dodd, Pat Farris, Louise Arthur, Judy Colvert, Mrs. Ferguson, and Joyce Seagraves all enjoy going through the new pictures. Naming students, typing copy, and writing headlines are just a few of the duties of an annual staff member.

Brownie Staff displaced, divided, but determined!

Tri-sponsors of the "Rambling Brownie" help to make it grow. The staff has been under the direction of Mrs. Nell Koenig and Mr. J. R. Glover at J. V. and Mrs. Joyce Chandler at Phillips. Pictured are: Martha Park, Business Manager; Ann Baggett, Editor; Kerry Tindle, Assistant Editor.

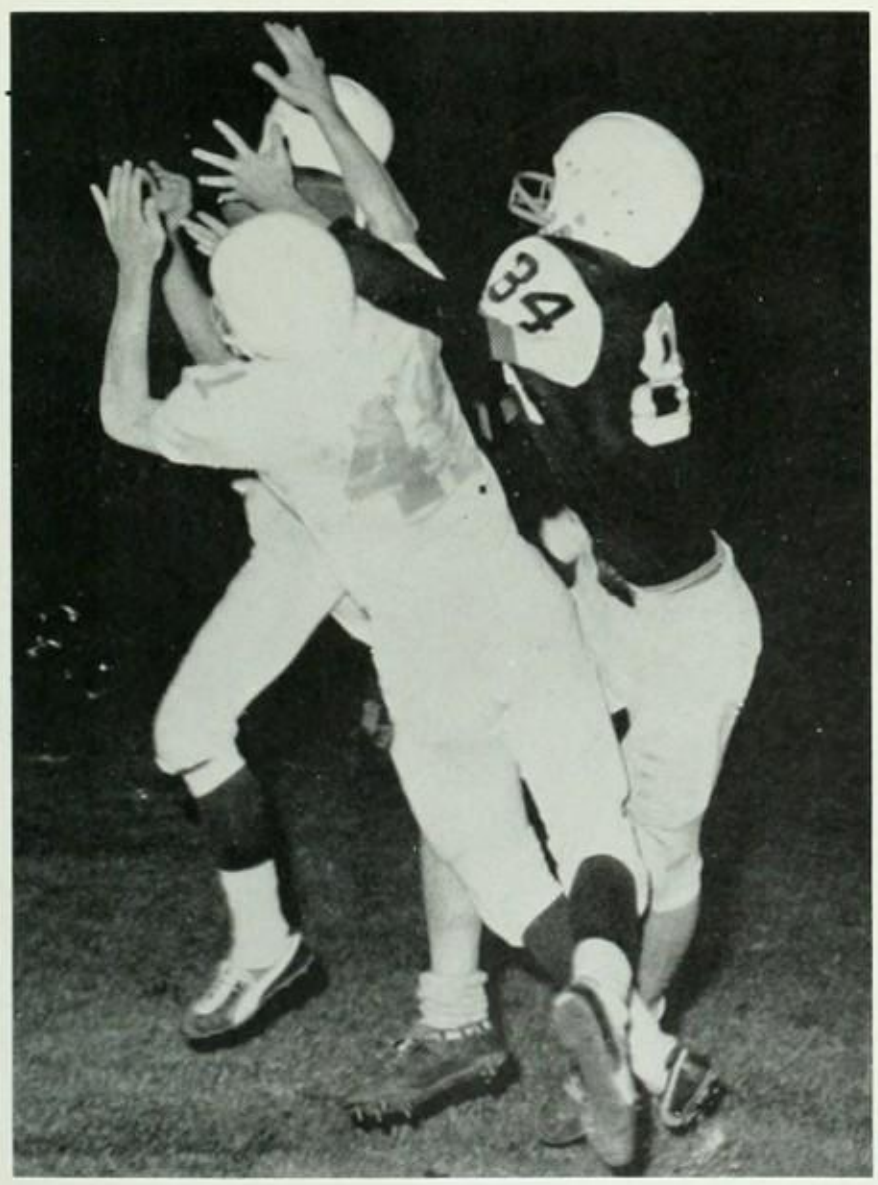
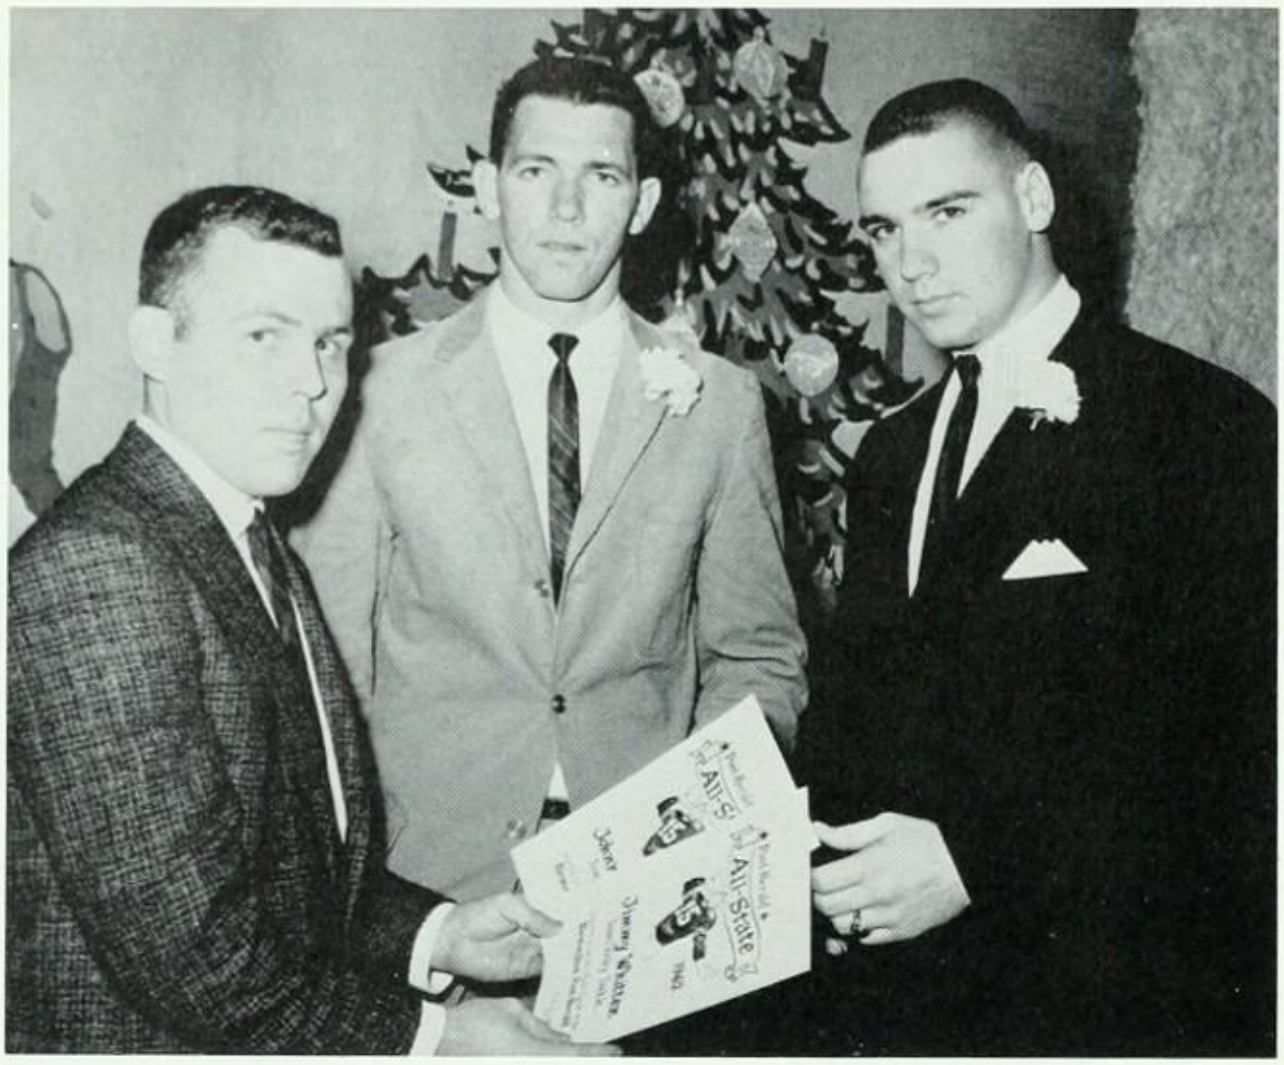
Jimmy Owen and Tommy Stafford bring down a Fairfield Tiger.



Johnny Stewart, All-State End, fights for one of many passes against Minor.



Johnny Stewart and Jimmy Whitten are presented All-State certificates by a representative of the Birmingham Post-Herald. Johnny was named to first team All-State and Jimmy to second team.

Stewart makes All-State

Climaxing the football season was the football banquet held December 7 at Jones Valley. Football players were introduced by the coaches and the guest speaker was Coach Dick McGowan from Auburn University.

Coach Hardy keeps 'em workin'

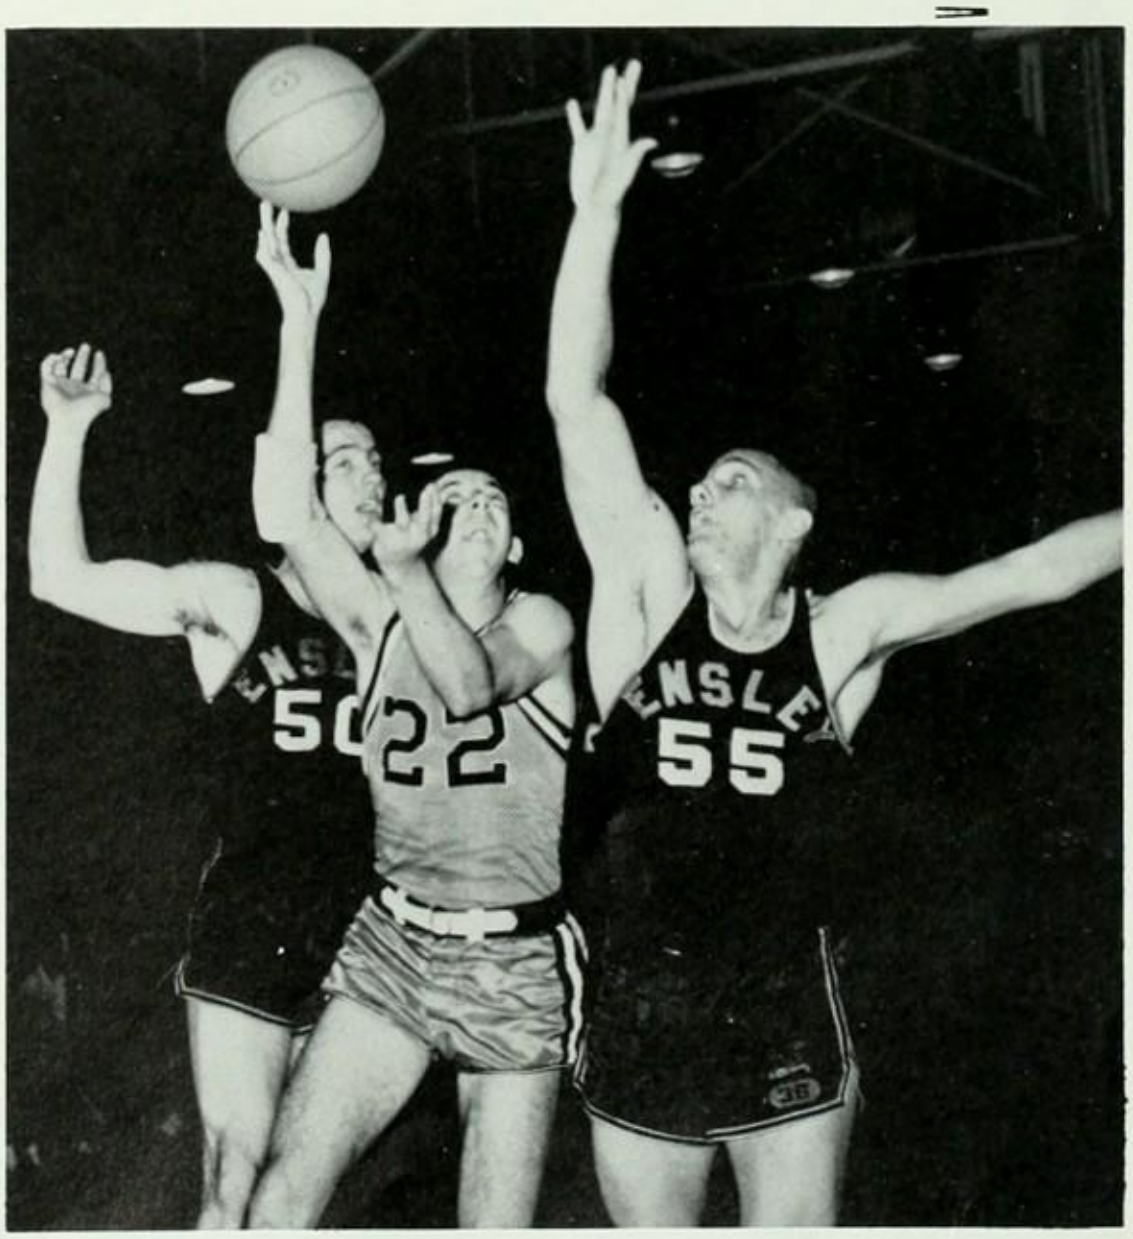
Coach Hardy's B-Team has shown a lot of spirit this year. In return for their vigor and prowess they were given a banquet at Carnaggio's Restaurant. Their speaker was Butch Wilson, star halfback for the University of Alabama.

(RIGHT) Tommy Stafford, sandwiched here between two of Ensley's men, goes up for two more points.



Brownies improve record . . . a little

VARSITY BASKETBALL

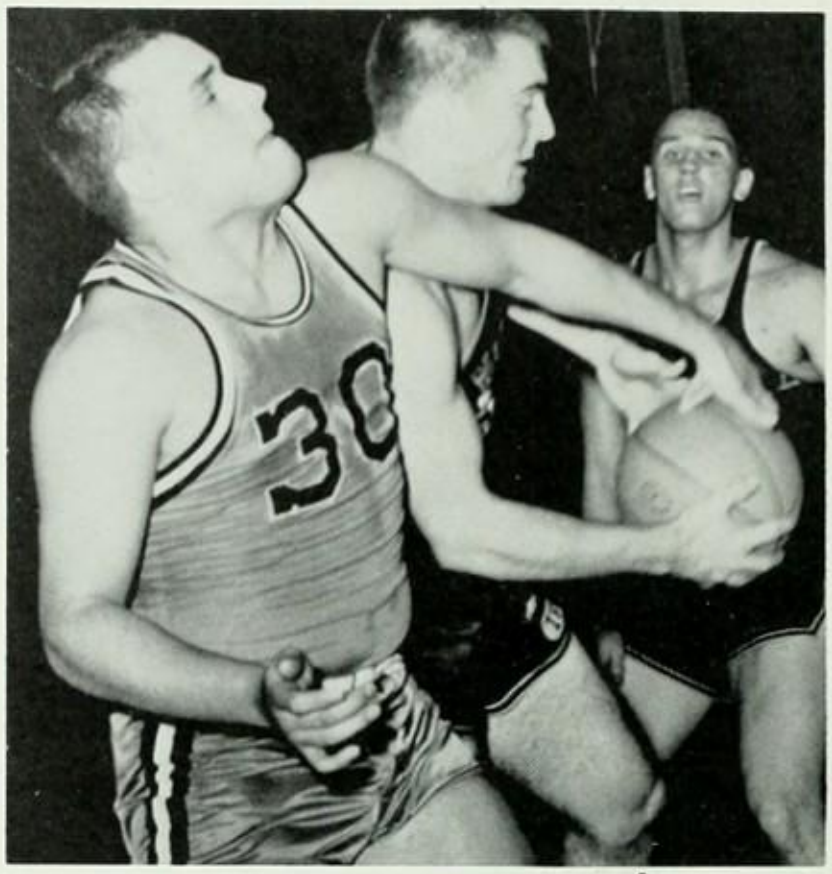
Coach Harris issues instructions to the Brownies during important timeout in Ensley game.

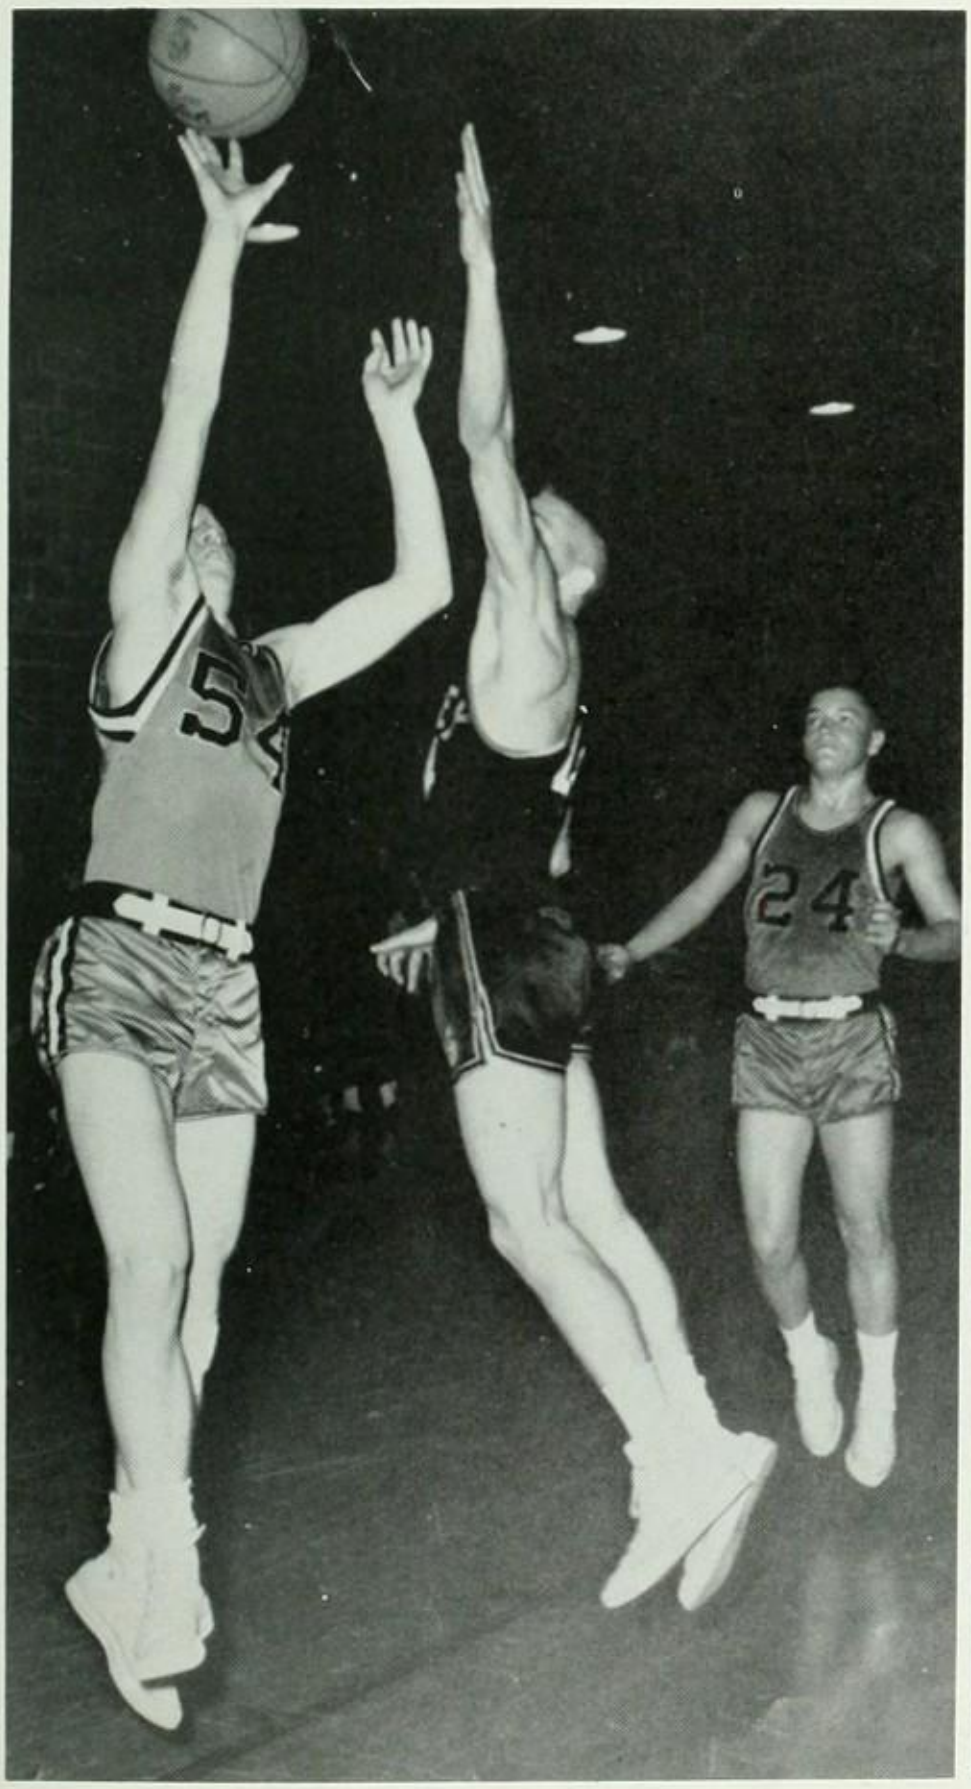
Tommy Stafford, J. V. center, was chosen for all-tournament team in the Christmas tournament.

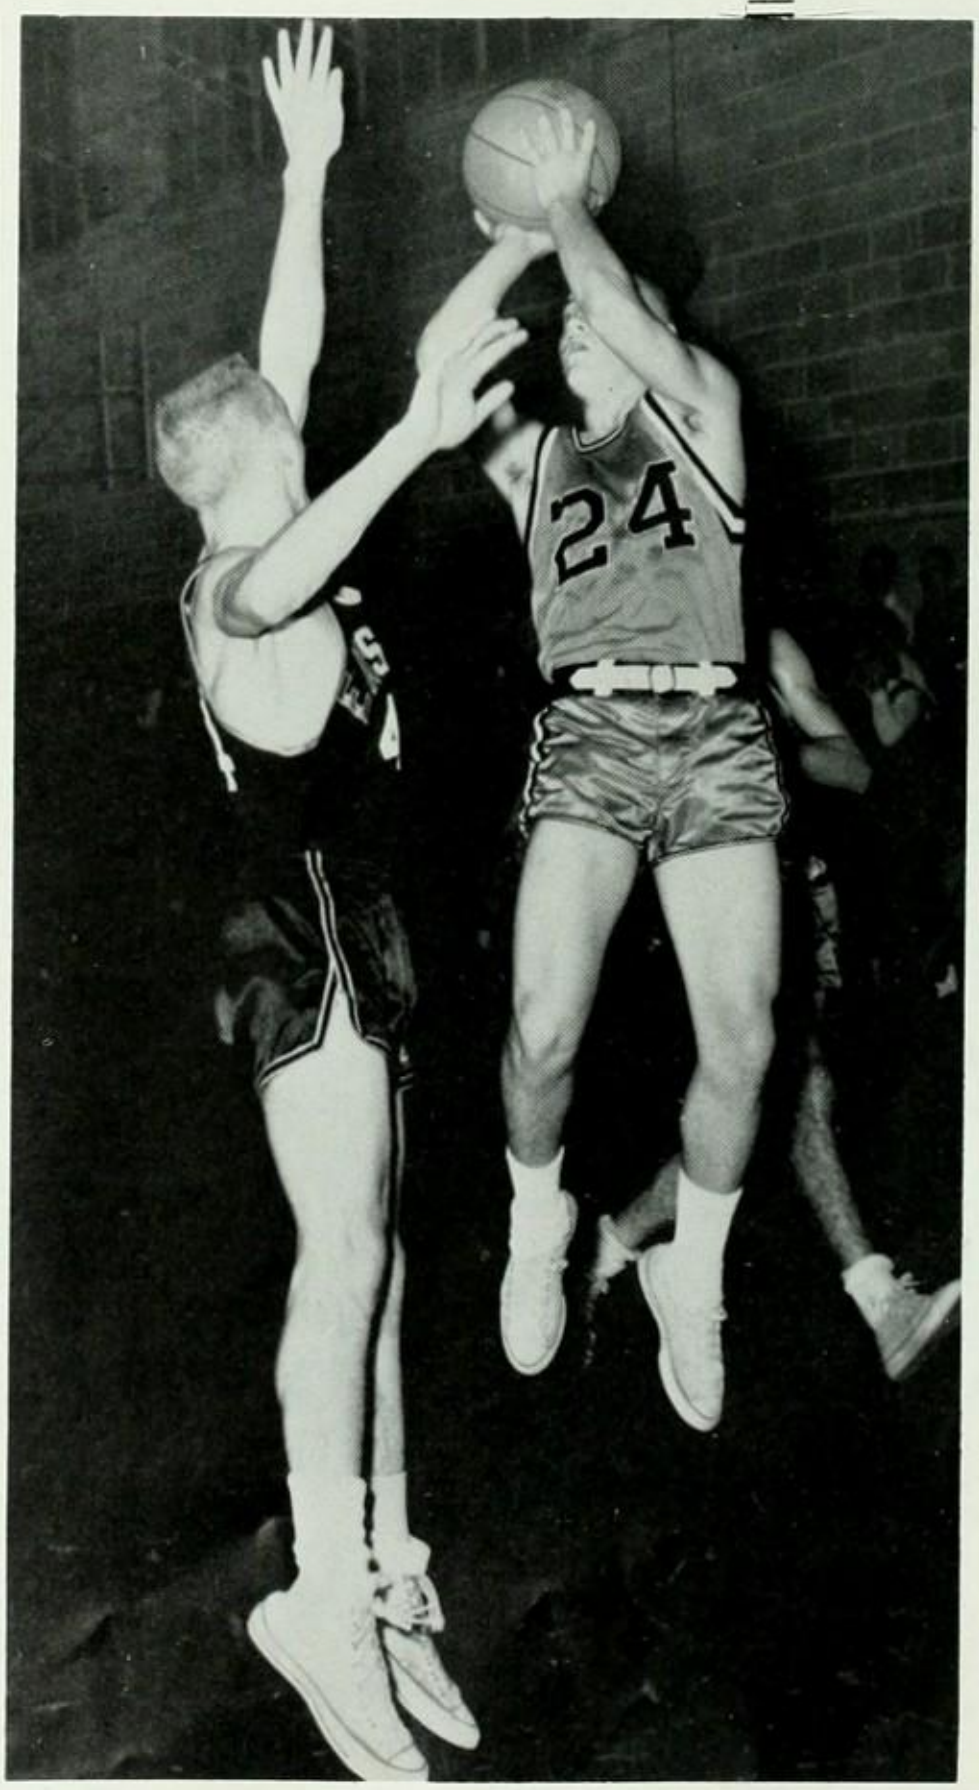


Bill Betts shows "vigor" while fighting for the ball against Ensley.

Brownies have shown great spirit this year in spite of being two feet shorter than all opponents.

(BELOW) J. V. guards, Kenny Hart and Jack Traffenstedt, go for two points against Ensley.





Valley adds another team

B-TEAM BASKETBALL

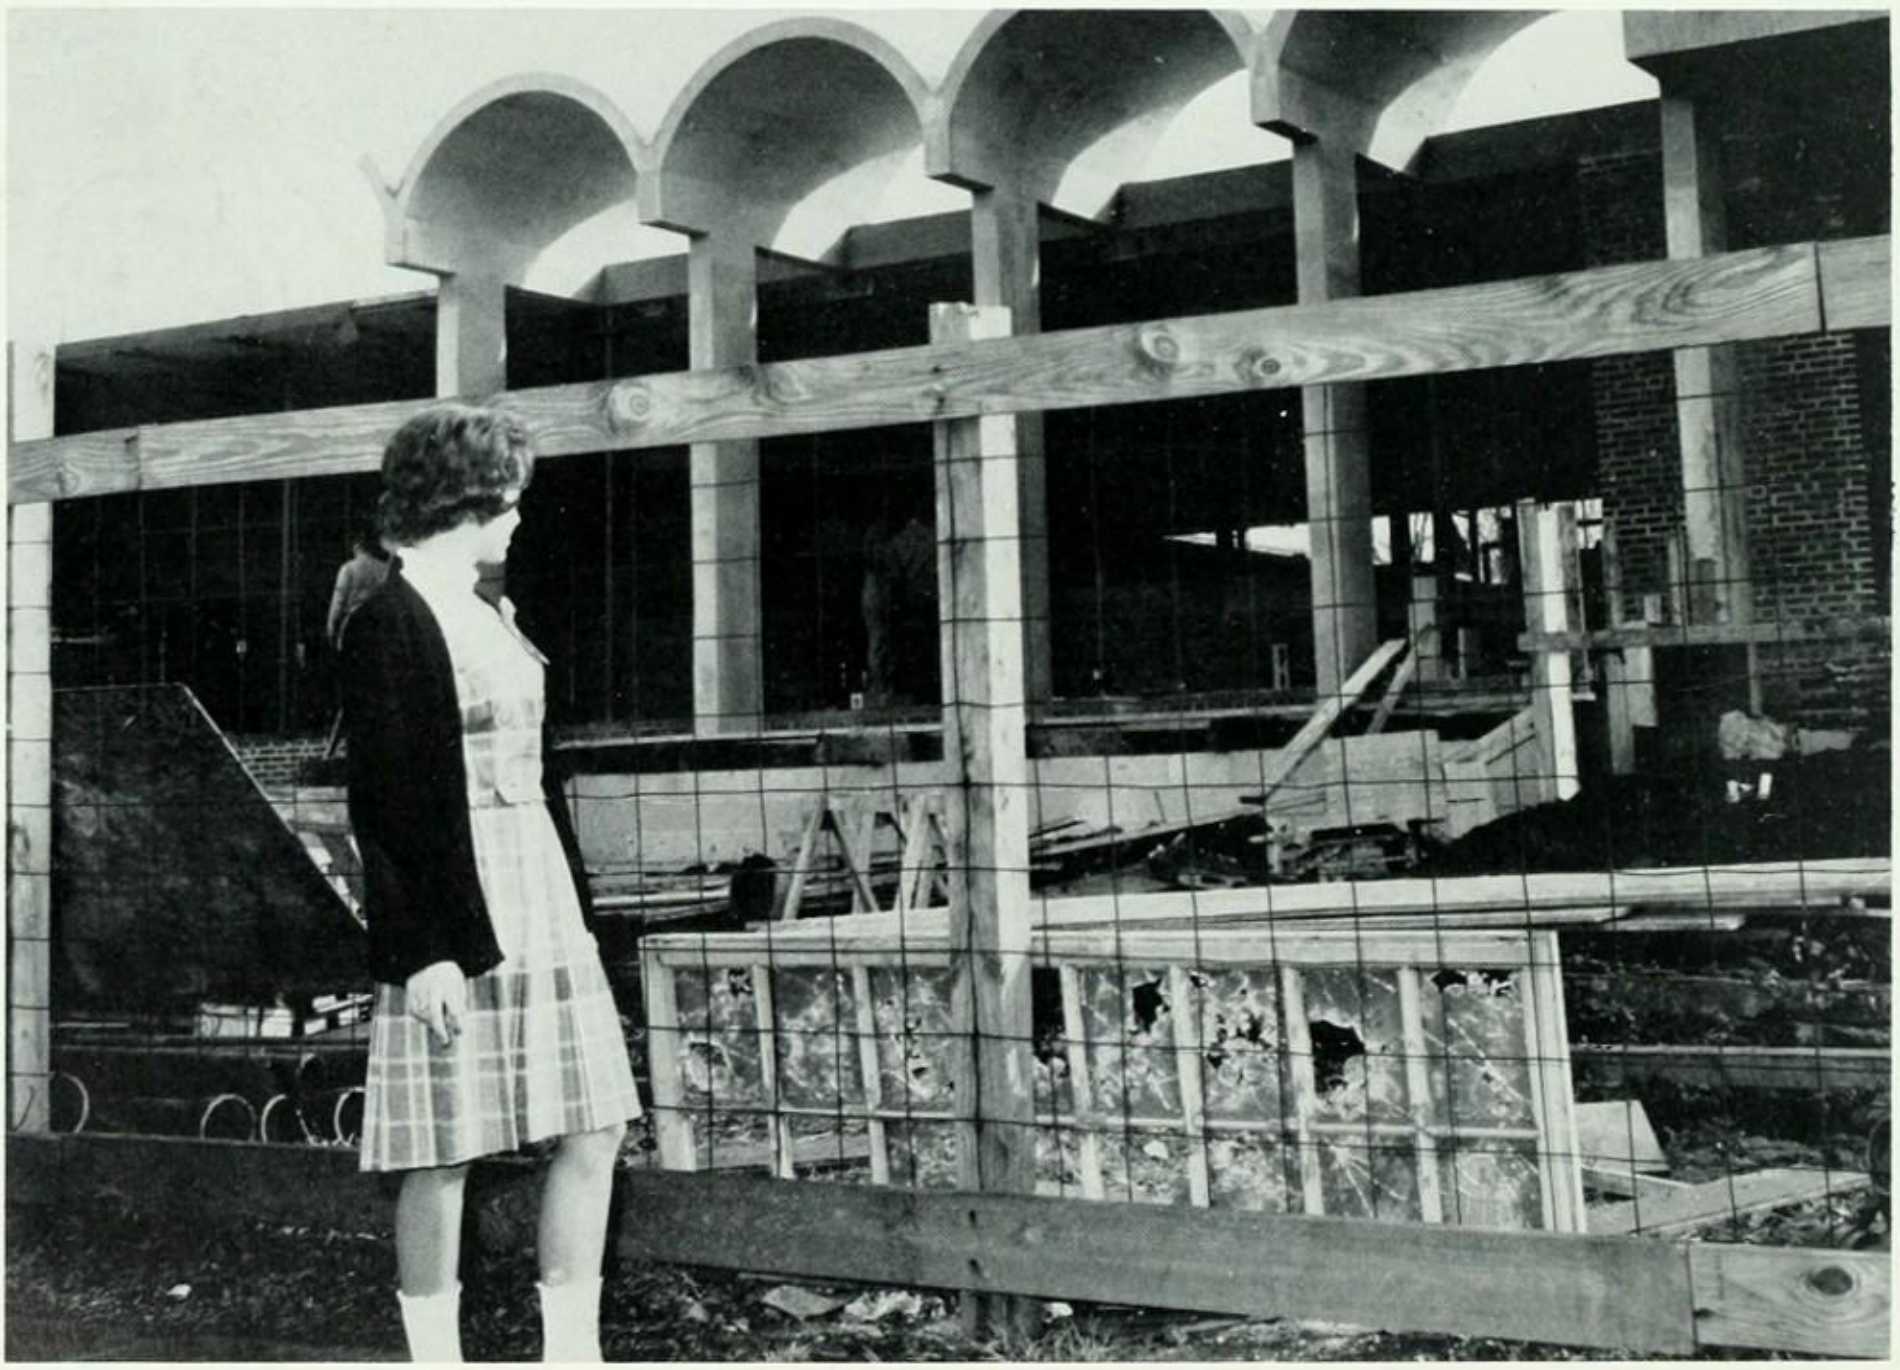
Jones Valley High School — Birmingham, Alabama

Dreams do come true!

As we go to press, we have high hopes of being in our new building before the year ends.



On May 13, 1963, representatives of Ensley, Shades Valley, Woodlawn, John Carroll, Phillips and Jones Valley were assembled at Reid's Chapel on the Howard College Campus for the city-wide Spanish contest. The contest was composed of dictation, comprehension, and original speeches in Spanish

Guest speakers were from Mexico and Cuba. Contestants were entertained at a tea, and then the winners were announced.

First-place winner was Betsy Blount from Ensley, second place was Linda Parker from Jones Valley, and Honorable Mention was Barbara Blount from Ensley.

Jones Valley was proud of its winner, Linda Parker.

National Honor Society tapped eight new members: Bill Reid, Linda Davis, Kaye Ellis, Tommy Willingham, Gary Altman, Bobbie Morris, Roger Hollis, and Tiajuana Lazenby.

Joyce Seagraves found it hard to pin the flower on new member, Tommy Willingham.

Most enjoyable event in February was the Senior Tea held on Sunday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A.

Hostesses for the tea were Mrs. C. B. Causey, Mrs. Aubrey Tharp, Mrs. Gorden Kendrick, Mrs. Dulaney, Mrs. Paul Hampton, and Mrs. Seagraves.

Jerome Gage and Don Hampton furnished entertainment by singing an original composition which was enjoyed by faculty and students.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson enjoyed both entertainment and refreshments.

What's Freda up to now? Jimmy Kendrick, Delilah Livingston, and Jimmy Rittman have decided that one never can tell.

The refreshments were enjoyed by all, including Bill Betts and Robert Gipson, who managed to get their share.

Mary Clyde Marcum, Tommy Stafford, Mrs. Driggers, Sharon Tharp, Pat Williams, and Judy Colvart found Don's and Jerome's song amusing.

Paul Stokes, the band president, and his date, Cheryl Tressler, thoroughly enjoyed the program. Later on in the evening, Paul gave the Last Will and Testament of our band seniors.

Mr. Bob Moore, our special speaker for the evening, presented us with some interesting facts on mental illness musical therapy. He is shown here presenting a band letter to Linda Smith, a clarinet player and B-Team majorette.

Diane Maulk, head B-Team majorette, Kay Brown, varsity majorette, and Carolyn Bragg, flag bearer, admire the lovely decorations planned by the members of the Band Boosters' Club.

Mr. Davis presented a special award to Carl Lacey for being the most efficient band manager ever to have served "The Golden 100."

Cascade's lovely Cloud Room was the scene of this year's Junior-Senior Prom. The Prom Club decorating committee, with the help of Mrs. Joyce Chandler, spent many long hours developing the theme, "Blue Hawaii."

Hawaiian mood and moonlight make memorable evening

Mrs. Driggers was glad to help Janice Lee with her gloves as Mr. Driggers admired her lovely dress and corsage.

Freda Crosby ALWAYS enjoys herself, and when she and her date arrived at Cascade, the party came to life.

By popular vote Myra Hughey was chosen Prom Queen. Rickey Satterwhite, president of the senior class, presented her with a lei of orchids.

Leading lady of the Prom was Laverne Dameron who was escorted by senior class president Ricky Satterwhite. Laverne was presented with a bouquet of yellow roses.

Yellow roses were also presented to Martha Park who was escorted by the junior class president, Roger Hollis.

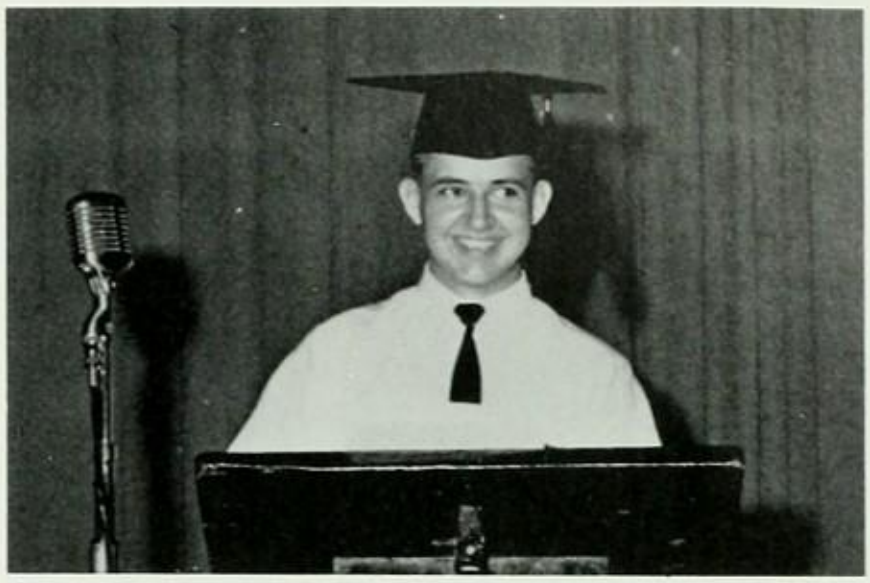
A few tears were shed by Seniors when Mr. Driggers led them in the Alma Mater for the last time on Class Day.

Solemn faces reflect mood of seniors

On Friday, May 24, the senior class held Class Day exercises during assembly period - their last assembly at Phillips High School.



Paul Stokes, class prophet, caused a few red faces.

Don Hampton, chosen by his classmates as the most outstanding graduate, was presented a trophy by a member of the Exchange Club.

Each senior was presented with a copy of the May 24 absentee sheet on which a Brownie bade farewell to '63 graduates.

TO LAUGH OR TO CRY - that's the question! Percy Owens provides a comforting shoulder for Ann Baggett, who was one of those who hated to leave Valley.

Last Will and Testament provided amusement for Mrs. Kathleen Waldrop, Louise Arthur, and Richard Baker.

Joyce, Elaine, and Verna looked happy, at least in this picture.

Carolyn's handkerchief isn't large enough for all the tears.

Even the stag line was subdued!

Brownie Record 5-7

Woodlawn	4 - 1 (L)	Woodlawn	4 - 1 (W)
West End	6 - 1 (W)	West End	7 - 2 (L)
Banks	11 - 6 (W)	Bands	11 - 6 (L)
Ramsay	4 - 1 (W)	Ramsay	5 - 4 (L)
Phillips	2 - 1 (W)	Phillips	10 - 7 (L)
Ensley	9 - 5 (L)	Ensley	2 - 1 (L)

Our record speaks for itself. A divided student body, trips across town to practice, and a lack of an accessible field were a disadvantage to the Brownies. But wait until next year!

Spring Fashion Show was an important event sponsored by Home Economics Department.

Students modeled their clothing, and judges chose the following winning outfits:

FIRST PLACE: VERNA MASON

SECOND PLACE: SARA HEIFNER

THIRD PLACE: SHARON THARPE

Mr. and Mrs. Driggers chosen favorite Brownies

In assembly, on Friday, May 17, Jones Valley expressed appreciation to Phillips' faculty and student body for their courtesy and cooperation during our two-year stay with them.

Also honored were Mr. and Mrs. Driggers who were named favorite Brownies.

Goodbye Phillips, we're going home!!

As we go to press, a new Jones Valley stands ready for use next fall. Seniors of '63 were the first class to graduate in the new school. Thanks again to everyone who helped us to rebuild J. V.
